

SUMMER READING
10 ENGLISH HONORS
2009-2010

Ah, it is summer time. Time to play. Time to sleep. Time to rest. TIME TO READ! Did you know that students who do not choose to read in the summer can lose two whole grade levels in their reading abilities?

In order for you to be thoroughly prepared for the course next year, it is STRONGLY suggested that you read. The following books will be studied within the first two weeks of school, and there will be formal assessments over both novels.

Catcher in the Rye by J. D. Salinger and A Separate Peace by John Knowles

In addition, the following is a list of novels and plays that are typically studied in the Freshman Honor's Program. If there are works that you have not read, you may want to consider reading them as well.

Antigone
Of Mice and Men
To Kill a Mockingbird
The Odyssey
